VAUCLUSE

Vaucluse combines the very best of the south-eastern region of France, close to Provence, the Côte d’Azur and Occitan regions alike. Its picturesque mountains, rivers, valleys, and fort towns make it a dreamy location for explorers and photographers – the village of Gordes is said to be the most beautiful village in France.

To explore the region, the village of Crillon-Le-Brave is home to a five-star hideaway in the form of Hotel & Spa Crillon Le Brave. Located in the medieval village itself, the hotel is spread over 10 17th-18th-century houses surrounding an ancient olive tree. Secret passages and panoramic terraces of lavender fields and rolling hills abound in the hill-top village, while restaurants offer a blend of Provence market produce and Mediterranean-style cuisine.
